

The strengths and weaknesses of education through the Open University. (Majid OB-51)

Outline

1) Introduction

Thesis statement :

2) Understanding Open university education

3) Strengths of education through Open university

- Open university renders vocational education to remote areas.
- Vocational trainings for all age groups
- Provides digital learning programmes
- Promotes self study
- Renders education for rural girls and women
- Mitigates unemployment by teaching vocational skills.
- Provides admissions for all degree programmes
- Open university promotes a prosperous and peaceful society

4) Weaknesses of education through Open university

- Improper education for distant students
- Poor practical implementation of vocational trainings
- Produces bulk of unemployed graduates
- Lack of educational guidance for students
- Outdated syllabus for all degree programmes
- Low merit criteria for new admissions
- Improper use of digital platforms for learning
- Cheating culture at examination centers.

5) Conclusion

Suggest few remedial measures

Thesis statement : The Open university system provides both the strengths and weaknesses of education. The strengths are quite useful in educational development, ~~whereas~~ but, on the other hand its' weaknesses render negative consequences.

Coherence is missing between attention catcher/ hook and rest of the introductory paragraph

Introduction:

Despite strengths, the proverbial donkey kept procrastinating and deliberately showed weakness. When the master realised the intentions of the donkey, he replaced salt with the cotton. The donkey, once again deliberately showed his weakness and fell in the river but now the donkey became unable to cheat the master, and got the punishment. Same way, the Open University system renders both the strengths and weaknesses. The strengths through the Open University can be enumerated as vocational education for all age students, digital learning programmes, promotion of self study, education for rural girls and women, mitigation in unemployment, admission for all degree programmes and promotion of prosperous and peaceful society. While on the other hand weaknesses of education through Open University system are improper education for the distant learners, poor vocational trainings, production of unemployed graduates, lack of educational guidance, outdated syllabus, low merit criteria for admissions, improper usage of digital platforms and promotion of the cheating culture at examination centers. Thus Open the Open University system renders both the strengths & weaknesses of education. The strengths are quite useful in educational development but, on the other hand its weaknesses provide negative consequences.

So kindly evaluate my outline, thesis statement and introduction. I am ~~was~~ trying to write full length