

Brain drain : Its Causes and Consequences

Outline

1. Introduction

1.1. Thesis Statement:

it indicates is a symbol of Brain drain ~~is like~~ eradicating optimistic hopes and creativity from the country. It has multiple causes that drastically impact national growth and the new generation's trust in its state.

2. Causes

2.1 Political Instability

2.2 Unemployment

2.3 Low Salaries

2.3.1 Doctors and Teachers are underpaid

2.4 ~~Inflation~~

rising inflation

2.5 No Scholarship for Students

2.6 Security Threats

check spellings of consequence

3. ~~Consequences~~

3.1 Lack of Innovation

3.2 Mediocrity is attracting Mediocrity

3.3 ~~The Country is losing its educated generation~~

3.4 ~~Less Creativity~~

3.5 Low level of education

3.6 ~~Future Threats~~

4. ~~Conclusion~~

Essay

A long time ago, a severe disease spread over in Athens. This disease had blown out the lives of thousands of people. The people went to the priest and asked him what to do, but he was unable to get the answer. At that time, a smart doctor past simple is used to indicate near past named ~~Hippocrates~~ figured out the treatment of ~~that~~ disease. He ~~showed~~ that ~~educated experts~~ can make a big ~~difference~~ in ~~people's lives~~.

can create a substantive difference

The value of these experts cannot be ~~denied~~ as it is crucial for ~~every nation's~~ development. Unfortunately, in Pakistan, there is a brain drain of highly skilled and educated individuals from the previous few years. Experts like teachers, doctors, engineers and even businessmen are moving at large scale to other developed countries. This is happening because of their own country's fewer resources and opportunities.
this trend is on rise

They see a ray of hope to have a better life and a better future in developed countries. Brain drain is like ~~eradicating~~ optimistic hopes and ~~creativity~~ from the country.
brain drain is tantamount to hopelessness and disappointment

It has multiple causes that drastically impact national growth and the new generation's trust in its state.

265 words of intro