Why I want to become a CSP officers:

The foremost reason of wanting to become a CSP officer is because it is one of the best job in Pakistan. Firstly, it provides job security like no other profession. Once you a person is selected as a CSP officer it is for life time tenure. In addition to that they are also given transport and housing facilities. Secondly, because of the power and prestige. Power and privilege of a CSP officer is ~~...~~. It gives you the power to make rules and to be a part in policy making. Thirdly because of the training and development. It provides you rigorous training program and an opportunity to study abroad. Lastly, the reason closest to thy heart for of becoming a CSP officer is because I have a dire ~~need~~ urge in my heart to serve my nation. I want to serve my nation by helping common people. I want to make an image in the minds of people that CSP are not hard to approach, they are also humans and they are as easy to approach as other humans. I want to create this image by my own actions and by being

[Red annotations:]
- As candidate
- In addition to this
- Render this profession more attractive
- Do not write in pronouns plz

there to listen to them whenever they want me to. Thus, to serve your nation means to serve common people. Being a CSP officer provides you with a fantabulous opportunity to serve the nation that is why this is the best job to be a part of.

All the best luck