

Paragraph: Never giving up

I have many weakness, but one of my strength of never giving up, always keeps me motivated at any cost is dear to me.

First, I am a student and preparing for the most competitive exam of the country. As, This exam comprise of such subjects which were not related to my university academic background. So, it puts me in trouble to tackle with such unfamiliar subjects.

However, I go for the positive aspect instead of considering myself not suitable. I found this exam more interesting for me as it provides me an opportunity to learn new subjects and build skills to counter pressure and situation where I felt low motivated. My believe in my strengths and never giving up always push me toward success.

Secondly, I had completed my education. It's been more than two-years. Most of the people's talk about my career. It often put me in a situation where I start thinking, I am lag behind from most of my fellows and friends. Those who were my batch mates, are doing good jobs and pursue their careers. I am still struggling for my goals.

becoming CSP. Mean while I imagine myself to be CSP, give me extra motivation. My dream to be CSP gives me hope

That few things happens late but they last forever. All in all, my strength of never giving up support me to stay strong on the back of success, doesn't matter how many obstacles came in the path.