English Translation :

Pakistan is determined to bring peace in Afghanistan because peace in Afghanistan is very important for Pakistan. From historical perspective, Pakistan and Afghanistan are neighbouring Islamic brother countries which are bonded in historical, cultural and linguistic ties. These relations are inseparable. Both countries are dependent on each other and cannot stay isolated. From the very first day, Pakistan's stance is to find political solution of Afghan issue. China also supports this view. In this regard, China has said that Afghan problem can only be solved through peaceful negotiations involving Afghan leadership. For strategic partnership, Pakistan and China will play their role in resolving Afghan crisis through negotiations.
