

Comprehension Practice

Answer#1.

Man has become dependent on machines and for their proper working man have to feed them with fuel, wash them with oil, maintain them within proper physical condition. All these collectively makes machines as masters.

Answer#2.

Machines made man over depended on them. Its nearly possible that in future these machines would dominate the humanity, as man is continuously making more machine instead of using that time and energy, by use of machines, in developing civilization. That's machines to machines cycle have made them curse.

Answer#3:

Civilization is process, made by making thing, using them properly. It involves freedom, justice and equality among people. Yes, I agree with author perspective that only machines do not make civilization they only helps man to be civilized.

Answer#4.

Making and linking beautiful things is essential for civilization. Beautiful things involves art works, crafting, painting, music, culture, traditions etc. These non-technological thing adds happiness and beauty in a society.

Answer#5

To prevent poverty I would primarily focus on enhancing education and empowering people by creating more opportunities. Education, because it will provide individuals with knowledge, skills and rise awareness among them. Empowerment, because it makes people financially upgraded, their ability to shape their own destinies, overcome challenges, and contribute meaningfully to society. Primary education with practical learning would receive most attention because it's the stage where the basic learning starts.