

Draw down differences between Environment Impact Assessment (EIA) and Strategic Environmental Assessment (SEA).

EIA	SEA
i) It is Project based approach.	i) It is Policy-based approach.
ii It is reactive approach.	ii) It is non-reactive approach.
iii Nature of action in EIA is Construction.	iii) Nature of action in SEA is Construction Strategy.
iv It focuses on final outcome.	iv) It focuses on critical decision.
v It is at low scale local level.	v) It is high scale global level.
vi It requires small time.	vi) It requires long time.
vii It focuses on the mitigation of impacts.	vii) It focuses on maintaining a chosen level of environmental quality.
viii It has a well defined beginning and end.	viii) It is a continuous process aim to provide information at right time.
ix It do not involve participation of public Stakeholders.	ix) It involves participation of public Stakeholders.
x It do not require any special prerequisite.	x) It require prerequisites like institutional capacity and tolerant society.