

Social media has destroyed real-life communication.

Outline:

1. Introduction:

Thesis statement: Social media which has changed the perspectives of humans through several features: connectivity, information, freedom of speech and awareness has not destroyed real-life communication.

2. Social media has destroyed real-life communication: (Critics stance)

2.1 Isolated people from social interactions

2.2 Social media destroyed solidarity among masses

2.3 Social media is one of the factors behind Psychological disorders

2.4 Discrimination and criticism on social media platforms promoted chaos and hate among people

2.5 Consuming time which in past used to be spent among people

2.6 Propaganda and fake news which influence public opinion are the provisions of social media

2.7 Spread hate among different religions, cultures and regions

3. Social media has not destroyed real-life communication: (Countering critics stance)

3.1 Social media has connected individuals worldwide

3.2 Social media in fact, integrated people and promoted solidarity

⇒ A case study of Gaza

3.3 Social media provides platforms where one can express one's expression

3.4 Psychological health is harmed due to social relations and interactions rather than social media

3.5 Social media in every sector saves time

(i) online education

(ii) Online jobs

3.6 Propagandas and false news have been encountered by states before its influence

3.7 Through social media tolerance and understanding have changed the gap of hate

4. Conclusion: