

1. Introduction:

I. Hook: Efforts of Quaid-e-Azam to encourage women to participate in the prosperity of Pakistan.

II. General statement: Development of Pakistan is not possible without women participation

III. Thesis statement: women are facing several challenges in the form of violation of their fundamental rights, less representation in working sector, and so on.

2. Body:

2.1. challenges are being faced by women of Pakistan that turn women's rights issues into reality.

I. women are deprived from basic fundamental rights

i. Rights as per defined in the constitution of Pakistan, 1973

ii. Rights related to freedom of choice

iii. Rights related to freedom of expression

iv. Depriving from such basic rights takes us toward woman security questionable.

II. Representation of women in Business sector

i. women have negligible pc of representation in Business.

ii. only 1 pc entrepreneur are women; source, world Bank report

iii. No opportunities for women in rural areas

women, questionnaire

iv. This turns myth into reality.

III. Representation of women in political ground.

I. Women hardly fight for their reserved seats

II. Case of Kohistan, when women were threatened not to participate in election of 2022 - source Dawn.

III. Politics is not only limited to elite class women

IV. Again this situation realizes us women rights is not a myth

IV. Cultural suppression of women; specially in rural areas

i. Concept of KARO KARI; In Sindh, if a woman expresses her personal feeling about to love someone, she will be accused for that and gets killed.

ii. In rural areas, women work day and night in field and kitchen

iii. No pay for her work

CV. Women right is a serious issue and reality of Pakistan.

Women Rights; Myth or reality

Introduction:

~~After the partition~~

After the partition of Pakistan, founder of Pakistan, Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah did remarkable efforts to bring women on the line of men. Because, he was well aware that without women's participation Pakistan can't neither be strong nor prosperous country. However, Quaid's dream vanished. Quaid's dream vanished along with his life. Today, women are facing several challenges which are hindering their way to participate in the prosperity of Pakistan. Moreover, these challenges are appearing in form of violation of women's fundamental rights, less representation of women in working sector of Pakistan, cultural suppression on women, questionable literacy rate, and so on.

Such challenges are making Pakistan unable to achieve that goals which Pakistan signed on women rights charter, being one of the first member of that charter, it is necessary for beloned country to ensure women right within the boundary of Pakistan. Because, without doing that we can not restor our honour back.