	The full name of Ibn-e-khaldun is
	"Abd Ar Rahman bin Muhammad Ibn khaldun'.
	He was born no 1332 in Tunisia.

He opposed state involvement in trade and production activities. His work "Rise and fall of nation" is written in his famous book "The Mogaddimah". Due to his work, developed countries in modern era are aiming to reduce military - oriented investments and expenditure. in order to invest more in education. He died in 1406 in famous city of Egypt, Cairo. 3) Ibn-e-khaldun's Theory of rise and fall of Civilization the concept of rise and fall of civilization is given by Ibn-e-khaldun in his famous book, The Mugaddimak. He wrotes that rise and fall of nations are directly link with Asabiyyah (Social Solidarity). He emphazied that a civilization only rise due to Social Solidarity amongst them For this he has given the Theory of social Solidarity 4) Ibn-e-khaldur's Theory of Social Solidarity Social Solidarity or Asabiyyah refers with an emphasis on waty group consciousness and sense of shared purpose and social chesion. In his book," The Mugadimah", he described that Social solidarity as the fundamental Bond of human society and the basic motive force of history. The bond exists at any level of civilization, from nomadic societies to states and empire. Also Asabiyyah is the strongert In the normadic phase and decrease 9s the civilization advances

9) First Generation

In this generation, the country is in Premitive Condition, a harsh condition in which alone survival is very difficult. People lives on the country side and mostly in the villages. Social solidarity is strong in this generation. People are dependent upon each other and their social bonding is so strong that it makes their life easy.

b) Second Generation

When a country is successful in gaining the power. Generation shifted from primitive life to city life. They start spending a lucourious life. They start establishes a country where there is no lack of basic necessaties. The social solidarity decreases as the

d) Submission & laziness In this stage, the state remains static. Nothing changes, nor the country develops heither it lags. Ibn-e-khalaun quote that State seems to be waiting for the beginning of the end of Story. There is no internal collaboration among the power holders. External pressure is being applied upon them: e) spree phase & spread of wealth In this stage according to Ibn-e-khaldun, country has entered its age of destruction. Country is plaqued by a chronic illness and that chronic illness is almost inevitable. State, on the other hand conitione to collapse.
