

Why is education important for youth?

Education is a key to success. It is important for youth to get education because it helps to increase knowledge and experience. Education promotes qualities in a person so that he becomes a civilized nation citizen. Those nations who get education, they become developed nations and their country is making progress. Education is not only just for knowledge, but it also brings good character in a person. Education promotes welfare of a country. Education increases the talent of a person and he becomes a specialized person in his respective field. It helps to boost manners and behaviours of people, so it is a way to increase the abilities and capabilities of a person. It is a compulsion for people, especially for the young generation, to get education so that this generation will participate to make his/her country civilized and developed. For developing countries, just like Pakistan, education is very important because it creates a lot of opportunities for people of the country. The Pakistani government should focus on education and make policies which aware the people to get education. So, youth should realize to get education because it helps them to make their life better.
