

Essay | Achilles Heel for CSS aspirants.

Essay is Bulls eye for aspirants preparing for competitive exams, specially CSS. One who masters Essay, masters the commission. The first ground that makes essay formidable is, unavailability of syllabus. Therefore, students have to knock every door to get the material, and resultantly, they miss the target. Moreover, no any book provides content for the Essay. So, one has to go through various sources and that excess of data brings sense of uncertainty among candidates. Alongwith this, examiner's demand of specific word limit is also frightening. Not only this but one topic pressure is not everyone's cup of tea, chiefly when there is no room for cramming and ~~everything~~ dependence of everything is on ~~cramming~~ ^{on the spot writing}. So, all these factors make Essay writing rigorous and complicated.

Afghan War : a curse

The Post 9/11 Afghan War is proved as a curse for Pakistan.

After the war, Pakistan had to bear the burden of 4 million refugees out of which, 1.7 million were illegal. These refugees introduced Drugs and Smuggling in the region. The number of drug addicts increased from 10000 to 1 million in Pakistan. The war also triggered Jihad culture and terrorism.

Pakistan sent its 2 lac and 50 thousand people to fight war in Afghanistan, but later, they organized their groups in Pakistan, as TTP, Daesh, Al-Nussrah, Al-tahreer and Boko Haram. Sectarian differences and extremism grew in Islamabad. This Sunni conflict changed the dilemma of the country. And, Khatam-e-Nabuwat culture spread all over the country, which caused many casualties. Pakistan which already faced a lot of destruction during military regimes, saw this havoc in the form of Afghan war.

Afghan War : a Miracle

Soviet-Afghan war can be called as a marvel in Pakistan's history. After the war, Pakistan successfully tested its nuclear power and also got economic aid from U.S for jettisoning USSR out of Afghanistan. This also brought prestige for Pakistan. ~~India~~ ~~pro~~ America provided Pakistan with modern defence technology. It is also a miracle for the reason that Pakistan saved its ports from Soviet Union (Russia). The conflict of Durand line with Afghanistan was also solved, as it was internationally considered a border after than, by UN. Pakistan also secured its sovereignty to be halted by India, after proving itself powerful enough to expel super power like Russia out of Afghanistan. Therefore, the war is no less than a wonder.
