Essay

A child is like a flower. It depends on the shadow of snow and weather. As it reflects a good twinkling snow, the beauty of the flower raises ^{as} much likely. Similarly, the nature of a child relies upon the bearing of parents. They have the future of their child to whatever they want to learn their child, he will cheerily grasp the lesson and reflection from parents. Moreover, they should have an equal responsibility to brush up their child through + various tactics. Morals and ethics are the top priority for bearing of child. Awareness about the modern innovations of science and technology play a vital role. They reshape the environment in which child is raising. Furthermore, awareness about management skills and rational thinking process upgrows a child through maturing point of view. Parents should teach the philanthropist and social work. And, balance diet and religion teaching keep the child fit physically and mentally. Thus, parents are blessed actors in the life of child bearing and their role is psychologically, socially and morally for child learning.

Child bearing thoroughly is inclined to the behaviour of parents. Whatever they learn and give an environment, to child starts following it. Parents are the initiative schooling of child. ~~For~~ ^{the} First and foremost, the necessary learning begins from parents' attitude and the way he they react in the home. Mostly, a child perceives those things which are revolving around him. For instances, spiritual practice of religion, namaz and Quran, these stuff directly aggrandize behaviour of child accordingly. In world, Science and Science is a hot debate, from which a child grows himself as situation is happening across the world. William words "worth said," to child is a father of a man". Thus, child is a ~~dist~~ mirror of parents. It learns and pursues only its ideals. So for it, parents are ideal and the most ~~the~~ parts.
