Does foreign aid help to achieve Economic stability.

1) Introduction

While foreign policy can provide crucial support, it often faces limitations that prevent it from ensuring long-term economic stability.

2) Purpose of foreign Aid.

3) Foreign Aid alone cannot ensure Economic stability.

(3a) Foreign aid as a threat to national interest.

(3b) Continuous aid creates a dependency culture, instead of self-sustaining economic policies.

(3c) Corruption and mismanagement, reducing the amount of money for productive investment.

(3d) Poorly managed aid-projects do not contribute to long-term economic stability.

(3e) Aid disrupts local business economies.

(3f) Large ^{aid} inflows reduced motivation for necessary reforms.

(3g) Aid often focus on short term needs.

(3h) Donor conditions misalign with recipient needs.

(3i) Changing priorities leads to aid-inconsistency.

(3j) Reduced Government Revenue efforts.

(3k) Donor countries by foreign aid control developing countries.
