(Body Paragraph) positive impacts of social media

The use of media has many positive impacts in various sectors of human life. Media has become a significant part in everyone's life because of its benefits. Firstly, the use of media in the education sector creates new methods of learning. Educational documentaries are a very interesting way of learning. Furthermore, Online education systems like LMS (Learning Management System) are also innovative methods for students of learning. Secondly, social connections also became strong due to social media. The apps like Twitter, Instagram, Facebook and WhatsApp are sources for connections to loved ones. Thirdly, civic engagement has also become good due to awareness through social media. Political documentaries inform the public about current scenarios of different political issues. Pew Research Center reported that through media, people have more interest in politics. Similarly, social media also gives entertainment to humans. TV shows, TikToks, films and dramas provide enjoyment in the end of a hectic day. In short, social medicine has become a significant part of human life due to its positive impacts.
