Feeble Agricultural Sector in Pakistan.

Pakistan's agricultural sector is feeble despite the fact that thirty seven percent labor force are employed in it. The key reason of its vulnerability is that it is deprived of modern technology. This is why the agriculture sector of Pakistan precludes from massive or high productivity. For this reason, incumbent government is developing relations with Saudi Arabia to bring investment in Pakistan in different sectors of it, including agriculture sector. If this investment succeeds in flowing into Pakistan, the agriculture sector of Islamabad will be revolutionized. According to World Bank, Pakistan can increase its agricultural exports by up to 50 percent by 2025 through diversification and improved output quality. To sum up, without potential investment and new technology the agricultural field can not be developed.
