	Crisis of Good Governance in Pakistan: Need of Reforms and Institution Building Building.
	Outline:
1-	Introduction:
	Thesis Statement:
	The looming wisis of good governance in Pakistan has shattered the economics political, social, civil and judicial machinaries of the country. However, swifts reforms and institutions building can helpul to heal the state from doldrum
-5	Good Governance and its importance in country's development.
	(a)= Historical context of good governance in Pakistan. (Balochistan local governmen
4	reforms (2010-2013)
	(Governing the ungovernable by Ishrat Hussain
) -	Looming aisis of good governan

Date:	Date:
Poor lack of good governance results in distrust.
(Education and health care disparities between Urban and Rural settings).
(Human Development Report (UNDP 2021)).
(b) - Political choas prevaits due to absence of good governance.	4-(Frequent changes in government and coalition politics - Case studies).
(Cross-country studies by Mauro and Knack and Keeker)
(c)- Vague governance is a hindrance	140
in the path of economic stability.
(World Bank Report on Pakistan
economic updates (2022).	P
(A case study by Jeff Huther and Anwar Shah)
(d)-Crisis of good governance reflects is the form of poor vole and rule of law.
(Panama Papers Scandal).
(Herald Magazine and Sustainable Development Policy Institute (SDPI)
(e) - Choatic governance creates a vaccum
between civillians and leaders
CITTION WIN Cauchy "

(Why Nations Fail by (f)- Security challenges get worsen due to obsence of good governance. (Terrorism and insugency rise in Balodin and Knyber Pakhtunwa) - Need of reforms and institution building for the revival of good governance. (a)- Knowledgeable democracy with accommodate meritocracy would result in a better governance (Intelligent governance for 21st century: A middle way between West and East by Nicolas Berggru and Nathan Gardely) (b)- Transparent and fair elections could yield political stability and better Jovance (Studies by Rashida Haqy and Uzma Z (c)- Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to eradicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State—1999).		And of section of the sec
(f)- Security challenges get aprendue to absence of good governance. (Terrorism and insugency rise in Balodis and Khyber Pakhtunwa) - Need of reforms and institution by building for the revival of good governance. (a)- Knowledgeable democracy with accompable menitocracy would result in a beller governance (Intelligent governance for 21st century: A middle way between West and East by Nicolas Berggru and Nathan Gardels). (b)- Transparent, and fair elections could yield political stability and better Jovanan (Studies by Rashida Haqy and Uzma Z (c)- Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to aradicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State—1999).	(Why Nations Fail by	all the solven property plane and the solven plane and absence of good governance. (Terrorism and insurgency rise in Balochis and Khyber Pakhtunwa) - Need of reforms and institution building for the revival of good governance. (a) Knowledgeable democracy with accountable meritocracy would result in a beller governance (Inselligent governance for 21st century: A middle way between West and Fast by Nicolar Berggru and Nathan Gardes) (b) Transparent and fair elections could yield political stability and better governance (Studies by Rashida Haqy and Uma Z (c) Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to eradicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State—1999).		u to (Terrorism and insurgency rise in Balochis and Khyber Pakhtunwa) - Need of reforms and institution building for the revival of good governance. (a) Knowledgeable democracy with accountable meritocracy would result in a better governance (Intelligent governance for 91st century: A middle way between West and East by Nicolas Berggrue and Nathan Gardels) (b) Transparent and fair elections could yield political stability and better governance (Studies by Rashida Haqy and Umana Z (c) Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to exadicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State—1999)	sence of good governance.
Need of reforms and institution building for the revival of good governance. (a)- Knowledgeable democracy with accountable menitocracy would result in a beller governance (InTelligent governance for 91st century: A middle way between West and East by Nicolas Berggrue and Nathan Gardels) (b)- Transparent and fair elections could yield political stability and better governance (Studies by Rashida Hagy and Uma Z (c)- Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to evadrate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State—1999).	Terrorism and insugency rise in B.	alochista
for the revival of good governance. (a) Knowledgeable democracy with accommoder menitocacy would result in a beller governance (InTelligent governance for 21st century: A middle way between West and Fast by Nicolas Berggrue and Nathan Gardes) (b) Transparent and fair elections could yield political stability and better governance (Studies by Rashida Haqy and Uzma Z (c) - Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to evadicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State - 1999).	Khyber Pakhtunwa)
for the revival of good governance. (a) Knowledgeable democracy with accommoder menitocacy would result in a beller governance (InTelligent governance for 21st century: A middle way between West and Fast by Nicolas Berggrue and Nathan Gardes) (b) Transparent and fair elections could yield political stability and better governance (Studies by Rashida Haqy and Uzma Z (c) - Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to evadicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State - 1999).	ed of reforms and institution build	ding
(a)- Knowledgeable democracy with accountable meritocacy would result in a better governant (Intelligent governance for 21st century: A middle way between West and Fast by Nicolas Berggrue and Nathan Gardes) (b)- Transparent and fair elections could yield political stability and better governance (Studies by Rashida Haqy and Uma Z (c)- Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to aradicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State-1999)	the revival of good governance.
menitocracy would result in a better governante (Intelligent governance for 21st century: A middle way between West and Fast by Nicolas Berggrue and Nathan Gardes) (b) - Transparent, and fair elections could yield political stability and better governance (Studies by Rashida Haqy and Uma Z c) - Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to exactivate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State - 1999).	Knowledgeable democracy with account
way between West and Fast by Nicolas Berggin and Nathan Gardas. (b) - Transparent and fair elections could yield political stability and better governage (Studies by Rashida Haqy and Uzna Z (c) - Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to exadicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State - 1999).	itocracy would result in a better gov	ernance
way between West and Fast by Nicolas Berggin and Nathan Gardas. (b) - Transparent and fair elections could yield political stability and better governage (Studies by Rashida Haqy and Uzna Z (c) - Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to exadicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State - 1999).	InTelligent governance for 21st century: A 2	niddle
(b)-Transparent and fair elections could yield political stability and better governage (Studies by Rashida Haqy and Ukma Z (c)-Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to exadicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State-1999).	y between West and Fast by Nicolas B.	erggiuer
yield political stability and better governance (Studies by Rashida Hagy and Uzma Z cc)-Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to exadicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State-1999).	Nathan Gardely	1/
(c)-Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to exadicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State-	- Transparent and fair elections coul	0
(c)-Minimization of lobying power of special intrest groups lead to eradicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State- 1999).	ld political stability and better gov	unage intrest groups lead to evadicate corruption and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State- 1999).	(Studies by Rashida Hagy and Uk	na kia
and ensure good governance. (The Economy of an Elitist State- 1999).	- Minimization of lobying power of s	pecial
(The Economy of an Elitist State-	rest groups lead to cracicale com	up 1100
1999	ensure good governance.	1 _
	•	re –
		· C-
(d) - Role of Civil Society in advocating for	Role of Civil Society in advocation	19 tor
good governance - a cultivate step. (Civil - Society in Pakistan - Report 2023	d governance - a cultivate step.	-/-

Date:	Do
	Introductory Paragraph:
	J 0 1
	South Asia presents a fascinating combination of many contradictions.
	9T has governments which are high on govering and low on serving. 91 has parliments that are elected by the poor but take could the intrests of rich.
į	Pakistan is one of the prime example, where such pragile governance been in practised from a long period of time.
	Since 90s, the country is experencing
H	he doldrums of crisis of good governme.
	From social inequality to political choas, poor rule of law ito severe economic disruptions and last per not 1	east the vaccum the institutions
	between the J
0	end citizens have proved & the final
γ	rail in the coffin of the state
Pa	akistan was among one of the top
t	en economic permoners among the
0	leveloping countries in the world during
	1 world aures

	the first forty years of its existance.
	However, some covert and overt influences have made the quality of governance microcold certain reforms could be resulted in the reviewed in the revival of good governance.
	From knowledgeable democracy to rule	accountable meritociacy, strengthen
•	to the strengthen rule
-	of law, transparency in elections
	to the minimization of power of special 7-0	intest groups and the approval of international aids with conditions are important steps to cate the problem.
	Indeed, the looming visis of good governance has shattered the economic,
	political, social, civil and judicial
	House machinaries of Pakistan.
	However, swift reforms and institutions building can be helpful to heal the state from doldrums [232 - Total ?
	Words

Conclusion: To sum it all, amid the worsening condition of the good governance in Pakistan, the country need 5 to implement major reforms in order to cater the problem. 9t is considerable to pay the attention on all the important dimensions of the governance, especially good governance that includes: government effectivenes, regulatory quality, rule of law, control of corruption, voice and accountability, absence of violence, and political stability Furthermore, the think tands tanks responsibility of to find a balance between meritocian and democracy, and between authority and breedom in order to create the intelligent and refine form of a governance. American political scientist

Date: