Brain Drain is increasing day by day in Pakistan. Brain Drain is when the youth of the country leave and settle in other country. Youth is leaving the country because of political instability, poor judicial system and worst social condition of the country consequently the country will face lack of skilled workers, lack of youth and patriotism.

There are many causes of Brain Drain in Pakistan. One of the biggest causes is Political instability. in the country. The democratic conditions of the country are worse. There is not a single democratic government which has completed its span which has eroded the trust of the people on the democracy of country and the news of corruption especially in election has further make the conditions worse. Youth feel that there is no freedom of speech in the country even the students can not complain about the administration of an institute in this country. Youth feel there is not even a single person in politics which can make the country able to live and there is no hope from government that it will make the country better and generate the better conditions for living.

Similarly, the Judicial system is in poor conditions. People of Pakistan have lost trust in the judiciary especially youth. Young graduates feel if they live in Pakistan and something worst happens to them then they even cannot trust the judiciary because the powerful people have influence on all the areas of country and that is why common people cannot take the justice from the country.

and if the case is done, the judicial process is so much time consuming that it takes years to find justice, not just time consuming, this process is expensive also, the fees of advocates is very much high that the common people is not able to afford it.

Like wise, the social conditions of the country is getting worse day by day. Everything from luxury to basic is becoming expensive. The electricity is expensive, gas is scarce in country. The cost of brands and clothes are getting higher that one piece of clothing price is equal to salary of common people. There is lack of opportunities and jobs in the country. Every year, thousands
