Question #7

Translate the following into English by keeping in view figurative / idiomatic expression.

To reveal ones hidden flaws it is important to consider ones enemy's perception. An individual is often praised by his friends regardless of the flaws. Friends never pinpoint flaws, as they might be not faulty to them or just for the sake of friendship. Comparatively, someones enemy dig out flaws from every other corner to humiliate that person. A few traits are overemphasized by them because of the hatred they possess, however, few might turn to be true. Friends always perpetuate the strengths, whereas, enemy focuses on flaws. That is why, it is vital to be thankful of having enemies in life who never fail to highlight ones flaws. If it is perieve in this context it would not be wrong to define enemies better than friends.
