

Nizar Hassan: A Palestinian Filmmaker

Nazar Hassan was born in 1960 in Mashad near Nazareth. He studied Anthropology and worked in TV. In 1994 he filmed "Independence" to criticise the bizarre israel nation of their Independence. As israel was planning to annex some parts of palestine Nazir hussain informed the writer about his latest film "My Grandfather Path" which was about choosing the enemies carefully because for instance, if you are opposing zionist settler colonists, you would soon ~~become~~ like them & forget yourself. For decades, aspects of palestinian, world cinema and drama which reminded the writer about politics & saved him from trap. Nizar new documentary was also about israel's encroachment on palestinian rights and the word complicity. A short version of film has been broadcast on Al Jazeera Arabic in three parts.

Total word:- 140