

Nothing Dries Sooner than Tears

Outline

I Introduction

Thesis Statement:

Initial pain and sorrow could be intense, however, human strength and determination often lead to healing and growth.

II Contentual meaning of the Phrase

- Transient nature of sorrow and the resilience of human spirit

III Manifestations of Resilience and Ability to Overcome Hardships at Personal Level:

- Nelson Mandela's life in prison was marked by personal suffering
 - His eventual release and leadership in ending apartheid exemplified personal resilience and overcoming emotional pain
- Malala Yousafzai shot by Taliban and faced tremendous challenges
 - Her recovery and advocacy for girls' education demonstrates her determination

c) Elon Musk encountered challenges of bankruptcy of SpaceX and Tesla

- His determination ultimately drove the success of both companies.

d) Quaid-e-Azam faced health setback during freedom movement

- Suffered from personal trauma but remained persistent to complete freedom struggle.

IV Illustrations of Determination and Perseveration at Society Level:

a) Post-war reconstruction in Germany

- After world war II, Germany was left in ruins but recovered rapidly through collective efforts

b) Collective response by societies to Covid-19 Pandemic

- Societies through vaccine and public health measures demonstrated human resilience

c) Japan's recovery from the 2011 Tsunami

- Community's resilience and swift response facilitated significant recovery

d) Post-floods reconstruction in Pakistan

- After devastating floods in 2022, people and state institutions worked jointly to ease hardships of the affectedees

V Exemplification of Resilience and Determination at State Level:

a) South Korea economic recovery from 1997's financial crisis

- With structural reforms and foreign aid, South Korea rebounded economically

b) New Zealand's effective response to Christchurch earthquake

- Government response and community resilience ensured robust recovery

c) Pakistan's successful strategies to survive 1990s sanctions

- Government policies and national commitment easily managed economic and diplomatic crisis

d) Germany effectively re-emerged after world war I

- Due to unfair treatment in Treaty of Versailles, Germany bounced back as a great power

VI Conclusion

Tears are universal symbol of human emotion. They represent sorrow, joy, frustration, relief or a myriad of other feelings. The act of crying is a natural response that helps to regulate emotions. However, tears are temporary. They dry up quickly, symbolizing the transient nature of the emotions that caused harm. This ability to move past emotional pain is a testament to human resilience. People develop different mechanisms to manage and overcome grief. Case studies from past and contemporary illustrates this concept. At individual level, people with passage of time triumph over grief and challenges. This can be seen in the case of Malala Yousafzai, how she continue her struggle despite of challenges. At society level, collective approaches of the people ^{to disasters} play a remarkable role in healing and rebuilding of societies. Similarly at States level, multiple states faced adversities and hardships but due to determination and resilience, they successfully came out of the hardships. Therefore, pains and hardships, that individual and a nation face, it may be intense but through strength and determination it could be overcome.