

Everyone want to change their lives, in terms of finance or peace. Same is the case with me. I want to change ~~to~~ my life from being dependant to independant. The only option which can lead me to persuaude my dream is CSS.

For me it is not a examination. It is a chance for me to change my future. The one who have seen many hardles in his/her life will definitely work hard to fullfil his/her ~~cont~~ aim. I have seen my father working day and night to build the future of his children. Sometimes it feels like there is a chain in my feet that donot allow me to go anywhere. It seems like I am ~~a~~ a bird in a cage. who want to fly above and above in the sky. who want see the colour of rainbow, who want to enjoy the rain. On the other hand I am thankful to Almighty Allah for every thing. I still have to work hard for the betterment of my future.
