English Precise and Composition

Q.7. Translate the following into English, keeping in view the idiomatic/figurative expression. (10)

Translation:

The University of Karachi is home to over 20 internationally recognized research institutes, including the renowned H.E.J. Research Institute, led by the world-famous scientist Dr. Atta-ur-Rahman. These institution/institutes conduct research of the highest global standards which is published in prestigious international journals. The university's administration has also made efforts to provide high-quality of education at affordable costs, granting admissions to around 8,000 students this academic year — 4,000 more than in previous years. Undoubtedly, this is great initiative for the students.
