	One of the most significant theoretical perspective of IR is the concept of Neo-Realism-This theory profound that states are centered around their national interest, and states exist in national interest, and store an international anarchic structure which is created due to the absence of global sovereigh authority and unequal capabilities of state which in return shape overall envisionment of lack of trust between states and creates an environment of security dilema.
