

Nizar Hassan: A Palestinian Filmmaker

very good attempt

Nazar Hassan was born in 1960 in Mashad near Nazareth. He studied Anthropology and worked in TV. In 1999 he filmed "Independence" to criticise the bizarre israel nation of their Independence. As israel was planning to annex some parts of palestine Nazir hussain informed the writer about his latest film "My Grandfather Path" which was about choosing the enemies carefully. do not write in pronoun if you are opposing zoinist settler colonists, you would soon ~~become~~ like them. ~~of~~ forget yourself. For decades, aspects of palestinian, world cinema and drama which reminded the writer about politics ~~of~~ saved him from trap. Nizar new documentary was also about israel's enroachment on palestinian rights and the word complicity. A short version of film has been broadcast on Al Jazeera Arabic in three parts.
