Stories inspired others to travel to Pakistan.

Furthermore, infrastructural projects also contribute in promoting tourism in Pakistan.

The new roads and highways will increase connectivity throughout the nation, and would have a positive impact on Pakistan tourism industry.

And visits to popular tourists destinations will be easier.

For case in point; China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC) plays a vital role for promoting tourism in Pakistan.

Therefore, rail and road projects will integrate Pakistan's rural areas with rest of the country.

Likewise, Pakistan is also blessed because it has many religious places for the followers of other religion.

Others countries people visited Pakistan for the religious duty. Religious tourism in Pakistan is a growing sector in enhanced connectivity.

festivals and historical sites has further increased international interest and awareness, attracting tourists to explore the spiritual dimensions of Pakistan.

Moreover, the power of social media in promoting tourism cannot be overstated.

People who use social media in Pakistan are rapidly promoting the valuable sites in the country. These people promoting the stunning and lovely location of Pakistan through various social media platforms.

A lot of blogs, vlogs are highly active in promoting the favorable impression of Pakistan throughout the world. This encouraging the outsiders to travel to Pakistan. Thus, social media pave the way for tourism in Pakistan.

In addition, educational tourism also plays role in promoting tourism in Pakistan. Educational tourism covers the types of tourism which have as a primary motivation the tourist's engagement and experience in learning and skill development. Pakistan has many educational sites such as universities and skill development institutes.

For a case in point, universities in Pakistan like Islamiya college, Agriculture university, Quaid-i-Azam university and institute "Pakistan institute of Tourism and Hotel Management" offers a diploma in Hotel management.

Thus, educational tourism creates opportunities for tourists in Pakistan.

Opportunities do not mean absence of challenges. There are certain challenges confronting tourism in Pakistan.

To the beginning, overtourism has become a big problem of Pakistan's tourism.

Overtourism causing overcrowding at a popular destination. Overtourism also endangers human lives. With the increasing traffic and lack of road safety and traffic regulations, accidents are happening more frequently.

For a case in point, overtourism in GSB and incident of snowstorm occurred in Murree.

on January 2022. Hence, overtourism is a big hurdle for promoting tourism in Pakistan.

In addition, depleted infrastructure is also a problem for Pakistan in promoting tourism. Pakistan tourism sector faces several issues including a weak hotel industry, unavailable roads and undeveloped tourism routes. The undeveloped and unavailable roads in GIB causes problems for tourism. Therefore, depleted infrastructure is a challenge by Pakistan's tourism and also shows the bad impact of Pakistan worldwide.

Furthermore, the negligence to tourists places is a prominent factor contributing to Pakistan tourism. The county office's blatant carelessness contributing to Pakistan's dismal tourist situation. There are many tourists places in Pakistan which lack cleanliness, health facilities and electricity. For a case in point, the Kaghan valley of Mansehra lacks basic facilities. Therefore, negligence of tourists causes hindrances in promoting tourism.

Most importantly, the Pakistani tourists industry suffered greatly as a result of terrorism. After the 9/11 attack, there was an increase in terrorism, which led to designation of Pakistan as unsafe and damage its reputation. The regular bombing and drone attacks continued to be a hindrance in expansion of Pakistan tourism industry. Therefore, Pakistan has had adverse travel advisories, and foreign visitors have consequently avoided travelling to the country.

Likewise, negative role of Pakistani media also a problem for tourism industry. The media influence has fuelled the flames. The media has portrayed Pakistan by just emphasizing the bombs, killing and accidents.

Since the 9/11 attacks, the media has presenting Pakistan a terrorist nation. This can damage the Pakistan soft image or reputation worldwide. Thus, the global media has created a false impression of Pakistan.

Moreover, the tourism industry in Pakistan face challenges by lack of trained human resources for tourists. The international visitors comes in Pakistan facing difficulties in understanding the language.

The trained people helps the tourists by exploring the historical sites in Pakistan. The Pakistan Tourism development cooperation emphasize the urgent need for training to meet the demands of growing tourism industry. Hence, lack of trained people create problems for Pakistan tourism.

Last but not the least, tourism sector are facing many social challenges. The foreign visitors comes in Pakistan faces many social challenges. The local people pressurized the visitors for their services. Like travel along north, visitors encounters by locals for their services. Also people in Pakistan misbehave with the tourists. For a case in point, Boycott campaign takes toll on Murree tourism. Therefore, social challenges also a big hurdle for tourism industry in Pakistan.

To conclude this, there are many opportunities such as infrastructural projects and educational tourism and also has challenges includes security issues and lack of trained people for promoting tourism in Pakistan. There are many opportunities for the tourism sector in Pakistan. Promote infrastructural projects promotes tourism in Pakistan. to performs their religious festivals. Further, the social media also plays role in promoting tourism in Pakistan by using social media platforms, people make vlogs and blogs of Pakistan historical places. Despite opportunities, Pakistan's tourism sector also faces many challenges. The negligence to tourists places is a big challenge for Pakistan's tourism. The tourists places has lack of infrastructure, electricity and basic facilities. The increase in terrorism in Pakistan makes it less favorable choice for tourists to travel to.

Moreover, the negative role of social media by broadcasting bombing, killing and accidents in Pakistan creates hindrance. Tourism is important to the economy of every country. By overcoming these challenges, Pakistan has the potential to rank among the most popular tourists destinations.
