Title: Reading Changes a Man to Strong Personality rephrase the title

During reading, the writer's imaginative thoughts affect on reader consciously or unconsciously. Reading is not only literary taste but also affects on one's personality outlook. As, during young age, a person with fond of poetry ~~finds~~ overwhelmed more by one poet work than others. ~~This thing can be happen in elder age~~ The reason behind these arguments is that the personality of poet affect more on a person who reads less. But extensive reading ~~makes~~ <sup>enables</sup> a man able to critically analyze writers' works. This ability prevents dominance of one writer's personality on a man. Moreover, good ~~critic~~ <sup>critic</sup> is one who imbibes different views in broader sense. In addition, the value of reading is not collecting informations. The real importance of reading lies to become a strong personality. To conclude, contrast and comparisons give one's his own perspectives about life.
