

Why nations fail?

Choice of jargons should be appropriate Improve language (sentence structure and grammar) Bring maturity in your arguments

1. Introduction

Nations fail primarily due to extractive institutions, economic mismanagement, corruption, lack of rule of law and poor leadership, which stymie development and prevent equitable growth.

2. Why nations fail?

3. Factors leading to nations failure

3.1 Weak political and economic institutions

The Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC), despite abundant natural resources, ranks 179th out of 191 in Human Development Index (2023) due to exploitative institutions benefiting only a small elite.

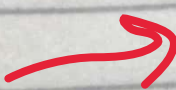

3.2 Corruption and lack of accountability

Nigeria, where over $100 billion has been lost to corruption since independence, resulting in poverty for over 40% of the population.

3.3 Poor governance and leadership Zimbabwe under Robert Mugabe's rule (1980-2017) faced economic collapse due to land seizures, hyperinflation and mass emigration.

3.4 Economic mismanagement Lebanon's government debt exceeded 150% of its GDP by 2020, leading to an economic meltdown and over 78% of Lebanese living in poverty.

3.5 Social inequality and marginalization Sudan's prolonged civil conflict, resulting in South Sudan's independence in 2011 was largely fueled by ethnic marginalization and resource competition.

3.6 External factors  Be specific Artificial borders in Africa drawn by colonial powers

- contribute to modern conflicts in countries like Nigeria and the DRC.

4. Impacts of national failure on society.

4.1 Economic collapse Yemen's economy has shrunk by 50% since the start of civil war, with 80% of its population needing humanitarian assistance.

4.2 Human rights violations Human Rights Watch reports widespread abuses in failing states like Syria, where nearly 500,000 people have died in the civil conflict since 2011.

4.3 migration and brain drain In Syria over 6.7 million people have fled the country, resulting in a severe loss of human capital.

4.4 Social unrest

Political instability in Afghanistan has contributed to a protracted cycle of violence and insurgency making it one of the least safe nations according to the Global Peace Index.

5 Solutions to prevent nations failure

5.1 Strengthening institutions Transparency International advocates that nations with robust institutions are far less likely to experience severe economic crisis.

5.2 Promoting economic diversification Norway despite being resource-rich invests oil revenues into a sovereign wealth fund, supporting long-term economic stability.

5.3 Educational and social reforms South Korea's focus on human capital development turned it from a war-torn country to a high-income nation in under 3 decades.

5.4 International cooperation Global initiatives like UN SDGs aim to support institutional strengthening and reduce inequality.

6. Conclusion

"Power without governance, wealth without accountability, and ambition without restraint ultimately bring nations to ruin."

- Condoleezza Rice

Former US Secretary of State

According to Condoleezza, those nations that have lack of accountability culture ruin Not only accountability, bad governance also hinders the way to prosper nations in the world many of the nations are suffering from their failing stage or near to failure. Because they have no good mechanism for resource management and also failed institutes in strengthening economic have weak political system that hinders the nation's prosperity.

Moreover, nations become failed fail due to the poor governance and leadership that create more problem for nation.

social inequality and external factors like disputes etc also exacerbate the nation to failure. Therefore these factors indulge the nations in to failure stage and create many horror impacts on the society, like economy collapse.

When any of the nation failed their population suffered hunger. Moreover their public facing human rights violation.
Brain drain percentage became high in failed nations, and their population facing social unrest. Due to these all impacts society suffered many bad experiences. So it is necessary to take some precautionary measures to prevent nation failure, like strengthening democratic institutions and promoting economic diversification. For the flourished nation, it is necessary to educate the nation and helps the international organizations in strengthening the institutions.

Moreover, the nation are failing due to their weak institute, political instability and weak economy.
Similarly, they are failed due to high rate of corruption, lack of transparency and accountability.
Poor leadership and poor governance also the ways to damage the prosperity of the nation. These factors have negative impacts on society, it suffers economic collapse, human rights violation, migration and brain drain and Social unrest in the societies.

Due to these negative impact its need to prevent the nations from failures, like strengthening the institutes, promoting economic diversification and education the society.
These ways help the society to prosper in the positive ways.

These are the many factors that leading to the nation failure.

One of them is ~~weak~~ political and ~~economic~~ institutions. Weak political and economic institution is the factor to nation failure.
Those countries where political institutes are fragile, ~~so~~ where political instability incurred easily that cause the economic shut down. Many of the countries that ~~are~~ have rich sources of minerals and oil but they are facing nation failure.

due to the misuse of political and economic institutions. For instance The Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) despite abundant natural resources ranks 179th out of 191 in Human Development Index. (2023) due to exploitative institutions benefiting only a small elite. This report shows that some of the elite get benefit from the country by violating rules and regulations of the country. This behavior in any country move towards the failure of nation.

Similarly; corruption and lack of accountability is also the main factor that leads to nation failure. Many of countries in the world where corruption is common, those countries failed easily. Culture of accountability is most important tool for the prosperity of nation because without this nations become corrupted and early be collapsed and population facing hunger. For instance, Nigeria, where over $400 billion has been lost to corruption since independence, resulting in poverty for over 40% of the population.

This report indicates that Nigeria facing hunger due to high rate of corruption in the country. Corruption and lack of accountability leads to nation failure.

Moreover, nation also failed due to poor governance and leadership. The progress of any country depend upon leadership qualities and their governance. When countries have have no powerful and educated leadership than their governance suffered many problems that make the ways towards failing of nation. For instance Zimbabwe under Robert Mugabe's rule (1980-2017) faced economic collapse due to land

Seizures, hyperinflation, and mass emigration. This report shows that when leadership of the country is weak than country face many problems like economy meltdown and other. Poor governance and weak leadership exacerbate the nation's failure.

Similarly, those countries where economy is managed poorly those countries also facing failure. Due to the mismanagement of economy public face hunger and lives under poverty line. Lebanon's government debt exceeded 150% of its GDP by 2020 leading to an economic meltdown and over 78% of Lebanese living in poverty. When country not managed their economy in good way it indulged in circular debt that give a short-term relief but in long-term damaged the country more worldly and population facing worst poverty. Mismanagement in economy also the main factor of nation failure.

Moreover, social inequalities and ethnic marginalization is also the dangerous factor that leads the nation to failure.
Prolong civil wars and disputes among the nations also hinder the prosperity of the nations. For instance, Sudan's prolonged civil conflict resulting in South Sudan's independence in 2011 was largely fueled by ethnic marginalization and resource competitions.
Ethnic marginalization and resource competitions are the factors that lead to nation failure.

Similarly, external factors also contribute to the nation failure. Disputes among the nations ~~are~~ the paralyzed the ~~institutions~~.

For instance, Artificial borders in Africa drawn by colonial powers contribute the modern conflicts in countries like Nigeria and DRC.

These factors ~~impact~~ have dangerous impacts on the society that paralyzed the institutions that leads to nation failure.

Those countries which suffered nation failure have very poor economy.
Economic collapse exacerbate the inflation and increase the poverty. For instance Yemen's economy has shrunk by 50% since the start of civil war, with 80% of its population needing humanitarian assistance. This report shows that those countries that are facing civil war or any other disputes, their economy is broken partly and their population suffer more hunger. These conflicts have negative impact of on society as that leads to nation failure.

Moreover, failed countries facing more human rights violations. Many of the countries in world that suffered conflicts are suffering violation of the human rights. According to Human Rights Watch reports widespread abuses in failing states like Syria, where nearly 500,000 people have died in the civil conflict since 2011. This report shows that Syria experienced civil conflict over long time, that violate the human rights and also there conflict also the cause of million of deaths. This factor has negative impact on nation that leads to nation failure.

Similarly, large numbers of migration and brain drain occurred in those countries where political, economical and administrative systems are poor. These countries collapse and their talented people leave the home countries and remaining live in poverty. For instance, in Syria over 6.7 million people have fled the country, resulting in a severe loss of human capital. These countries are already poor and when talented people have fled country then country become more poor. It is also the factor that impact the society badly that leads to the nation failure.

It is very necessary to prevent the nation

From the failures it is to adopt some necessary steps that help the nation in progress.

For the betterment of the nation it is necessary
- to strengthened the institutes by adopting the culture of accountability and transparency.
Strengthened the economic institutes by long-term policies. When institutes become fulfilled in good manner than the country progress positively.
For instance, Transparency International advocates that nations with robust institutions are far less likely to experience severe economic crisis. This report shows that those countries where transparency and accountability is strong, those nations less economic crises.

Moreover, for the stability of the nation it is necessary to educate the the society and introduced social reforms. Many of the countries that face many problems after war and disputes but when they start focusing on the education and social reforms these nations progress very well. For instance, South Korea's focus on human capital development turned it from a war-torn country to a high-income nation under in 3 decades. Education and social reforms are the key factors that help the nations in positive progress.

Moreover, international organizations like ~~the~~ United Nations also helps helps to strengthened the institutes which are necessary for the prosperity of the nation. These organization are national and as well international organizations For instance global initiatives like United Nation Sustainable development goals (SDGs)

aim to support institutional
strengthening and reduce inequality. These organizations help to strengthen the institutes and good for the prosperity of the nation.

In a nutshell, nations failed due to the weak political and economic institutes. Enriched culture of corruption and lack of transparency and accountability.

In the country where governance and leadership is poor and mismanagement of economic system also facing problems. external factors, social inequalities and ethnic marginalization paralyzed the institutes which become the cause

~~Excessive~~ nation failure. There all factors have many negative impacts on the nations like economy collapse, human rights violation, high rate of migration and brain drain that create social unrest. Due to these dangerous causes, some preventive measures are necessary like strengthening the democratic institutions and promoting economic diversification moreover, it is necessary to educate the society for better progress. In short nation failed due to poor management and have very less dangerous effect on society but it can be under control with some precautionary measures.