

2024

Nature and Urban Life

Parks provide a peaceful escape in busy cities. They promote a sense of brotherhood by bringing people together. They also support wildlife and contribute to a healthy environment. However with the growth of cities, it is becoming difficult to maintain these green spaces. Sustainable planning is needed to create a balance between nature and urban life. The co-existence of parks and cities can help create a nurturing ecosystem.

72 words