Sir Syed Ahmed Khan was not only a reformer but also proved to be the savior of the Muslims. The British wanted to snatch the power of the Muslims. So, naturally, they are great opponents of the Muslims and spare no effort to eradicate them. In a strategic way, they started to weak the roots of Islam and they properly started a campaign to preach Christianity. Their means was to eliminate Islam's culture. Sir Syed concluded by effective learning of changing circumstances that if Muslims are continued to this way and they not change themselves with time and ultimately, they would drive into dwelling phase. So, he started Aligarh movement for basic needs.

to protect rights of Muslims and to keep them away from further ignorance. The only solution was to admit the power of Sun and make cooperation rather than enmity with the British.

The Muslims rivals Hindus who spent decades under the Muslims rule wanted independence. They wanted to secure their gain by making favor of the British.

They succeeded in getting every type of favors. They heartily wanted to take place of the Muslims by pushing them back in every aspect of life. Sir Syed tried every possible effort to wake up the Muslims in such circumstances. In a very effective way, he
