

PRECI (2024)

In The Relation of an Individual with Urban Green Spaces:-

In the fast forward lifestyle of cities, urban green spaces plays a crucial role.

The greenery with vibrant environment welcome the comfort and bond with the nature.

whereas, the parks play's the role of human well being and help in creating good relation among themselves that includes family gatherings, concerts, art exhibition or sport games. These urban spaces are not only a space of relaxation but become a place of spreading culture.

Also, when it comes to human well-being the purification of air, reducing scorching heat. Apparently, it helps in an individual mental health. On Conversely, there are certain challenges which needs to be look after during the increase of urbanization with its preservation of green spaces. In result, the sustainable urban Planning includes the care of both human and environmental health.