

keeping in mind the multiple crisis of Pakistan today, changes in educational policy and institutes, IT sector, governance structure, and basic economic reforms can genuinely change Pakistan and put it on the right track towards prosperity.