

Causes and Consequences of poverty in Pakistan kips.edu.pk

Social unrest has been ^{one} of the huge challenge for Pakistan since its origination. As though different governments have worked to overcome social unrest in Pakistan. However they failed due to some gaps and flawed policies. Poverty is one of all times dreadful issue which is paring social unrest in Pakistan and many problems. Poverty has spreaded in all the world, However, Pakistan is the most effected country among countries. They are alot of causes due to which poverty exists in Pakistan, and it is ramping day by day. Some of major are, lack of education, corruption, lack of opportunities and gender discrimination. These causes are thoroughly responsible of increasing poverty in Pakistan. Poverty leads to hazardous consequences in Pakistan, which are extreme unemployment, growing rate of crimes and economic stagnation. Consequently, societies in Pakistan will be victim of conflicts and social disparities. So, In order to control poverty through strategic resolutions, Pakistan has to redesign all policies and take some serious steps toward development of quality education, provision of career opportunities without discrimination of any kind. More importantly there must be a strong regulatory body designed or reformed to eliminate corruption and to encourage merit in each aspects, ensuring rights of people. Poverty in Pakistan, is the cause of crime, inequalities, unemployment which is leading toward public resentment. Pakistan needs to reconsider and redesign all policies related to education and irregularities is various sectors to insure peace and prosperity.