

New war fronts lie in economic zones.

Outline:

1. Introduction:

Thesis statement: New war fronts lie in economic zones, nation states have been influencing numerous regions for economic zones: Energy rich regions, economic alliance, trade routes, airspace, islands and ports become as the new economic war fronts. Therefore, new war fronts lie in economic zones.

2. Overview of the new war fronts:

3. New war fronts lie in economic zones:

3.1 Energy rich regions as new trade war fronts

The U.S vs. China in Middle East

3.2 Economic alliance

A case study of BRI vs. IMEC

3.3 Trade routes have been used as economic war fronts

Indian Ocean, the Strait of Malacca

3.4 Airspace as new economic front regions

Airborne imports and exports

3.5 Islands are being considered as new economic war fronts

Taiwan, Semi-conductor production

3.6 Shortest connected ports become as new economic war fronts

CPEC, Chinese box energy imports

3.7 Oceans become the region of economic war zones

South China Sea

3.8 Sanctions on the extension of economic connectivity as a part of war

Iran - Pakistan gas pipeline

3.9 investment in the infrastructure of other sovereign states to overcome enemies

A case study of India's investment in Chabahar port

3.10 Access of nation states to dry lands to influence with soft power for economic fronts

China in CARs

3.11 De-valuation of currencies as a part of economic battles

BRICs aims de-valuation of dollars

Reference: "When China Rules the World" martin

3.12 Alliance in the Ocean regions to deter competitors

QUAD - AUKUS

3.13 Sanctions on numerous products as a part of economic war

US Sanctioned Chips export to China

Reuters Report 2023

4. Conclusion

Robin Dilit ascribes in one of his most prominent books "New Cold War", the traditional methods of combats in the existing multipolar world become useless. Nation States have been influencing regions which have geo-economic importance. The geo-economic regions have provided the most enormous benefits to gain power against the competitors, Robin ended the stance at last chapter of "New Cold War." Undoubtedly, new war fronts lie in the economic zones. Nation States have been influencing energy hubs, trade routes and air space for the economic war zones. Moreover, Islands, ports, oceans and economic alliance became the part of economic war fronts. The competitors have been using massive sanctions against one another to curb the extension of trade. Besides, the nation states also invest in the sovereign territories to overcome the enemies. Countries around the world have reached to the dry lands of remote regions to establish economic zones. Most of the nation states have been fighting currency de-valuation to be the part of economic war fronts. Additionally, nation states have currently captured and installed alliance in oceans to encounter the enemies, last but not the least, countries have imposed sanctions against exports of numerous products sending to competitors. Therefore, new war fronts lie in the economic zones.