It is impossible for a genius to make money as the priority of life, so as the dinner. Everyone like their dinners but it is not their main focus. Mindful & individuals crave the thrill of earning, ~~money~~ which is more satisfactory. For example a good soldier strives to fight well, above his pay. However, he complains when he is unpaid for his labour. Similarly for priest, preaching is the focus not the paycheck. Doctors like fees, but healing comes first. So as the doctors, they deserve fees, but their true reward is healing and helping others. ~~That~~ and same for all brave individuals, their work takes precedence over their compensation. Work first, Pay Second.
