Title: The faith of ancient Greece's soothsayer

A man communicate with God only in time of his own needs. In ancient Greece, ^{for that} sage had ability to decoded signs sent by the God. By interpreting flashes of lightning, rolls of thunder and other omens, they give predictions regarding different approaches. Many omens were these in which God did not give signs but directly spoke, which prophet or make commonly Hierophants delivered ~~message~~ from God to his followers. The ancient Greek oracles operated on the future predictions practices. Apollo, Delphi and Dodona were different prophets for the Greek.
