

Q1:

Reading Comprehension CSS-2023

For inner peace and ~~a~~ better life happiness is important for many people. The relationship between the material wealth and happiness is that the for self satisfaction material wealth is not important for happiness but simple life with inner peace make a person happy.

Q2: According to author the concept of simplicity as a movement is that to spend life with limited resources and avoid those extra things which distract us from our inner peace. For our mental satisfaction materialism is not important but with less materials and inner satisfaction life is better.

Q3: The ~~press~~ on environment is feared by the growing consumerism of society because when consuming of materials is ~~more~~ in excess there would be more industries and wastes, which is harmful for environment and affect the whole environment.

Q4: The consumer society where <sup>there is</sup> more advertising of products and <sup>the</sup> race between the different classes in a society make difficult for people to reduce their consumption of products. There is no coordination between the societies to exchange their unused items with each other.

Q5: The challenges to voluntary simplicity is that there are more products and the advertisements of these products in a society and the race between the elites class in their luxury life style. The rewards of voluntary simplicity is that there will be no environmental loss, less expenditures and more resources for future generation.