

Is Women Empowerment Important for The Development?

Outline:

① Introduction:

Empowering a woman can lead to the development of a good family, good society, and even a good nation — Dr. Abdul Kalam

General statements:

Thesis Statement:

② What is the meaning of Women Empowerment:

③ Why Women Empowerment is Important:

(i) Overall development of the Society.

① New Zealand former Prime Minister, Jacinda Ardern was noted for her leadership skill in the society.

② The growth of Garment industry of Bangladesh empowered million of women.

③

(ii) Economic growth of the Country.

① Economic growth in Rwanda.

(iii) Reduction of domestic violence.

① United Nations report "The State of women in the world".

(iv) For inspiration of others.

① Malala Yousafzai, a Nobel Laureate.

② Dr. Ruth Pfau efforts

(v) National Development:

① World Bank's report "Women, Business and the Law 2021."

2024.09.29 01:53

(vi) To reduce Poverty

(a) International fund for Agriculture development
Publication "Empowering women for sustainable development."

(b) World bank's report "gender equality and development."

(vii) To showcase their hidden talent.

(a) To be seated on high positions....

(viii) To promote an educated society.

(a) World bank's report "World's development report 2018: Learning to Realize Education's Promise."

④ Ways to Empower women:

(i) Creation of equal opportunities in all area.

(a) McKinsey and Company - "Women in the work place - 2020."

(ii) Ending dowry system and creating friendly environment.

(iii) Creating much safer environment for women

(a) Third world countries are not much safer for women.

(iv) Strengthening Law enforcement agencies.

(a) Devise strict penalties for harassment and violence

(v) Increasing the participation of women in Politics and in state affairs.

(a) Women quota system along with opmesit.

(b) Reserve seats in ~~the~~ law making.

(vi) Ending early marriages system.

(a) 60% of the early married girls a living '...', their lives below the poverty line.

(vii) Inspiring women through female mentors or role models or other ways.

(a) "We cannot all succeed when half of us are held back."

(viii) Through investment in women associated sectors.

(a) "Investing in women means investing in the people who invest in everything else." Malena Gates.

(5) Conclusion:

2024.09.29 01:56