

DATE: ___/___/___

Amara Malik

377

Précis Writing

Q. NO-1

Opening sentence is too long. Break it into two sentences.

Write précis and suggest a suitable title:

People who actively participate in this world without knowing that what and when they should be doing something, are the ones who spread most of the evil in this world. Devil must be the one who hates procrastination the most. The world is stuck in a quagmire due to the use of energy in the wrong direction. The world would have been a ^{better} good place if the previous kings, leaders, or journalists ~~would have~~ ^{had} spent their time resting in sunshine rather than designing any difficult doctrine. Moreover, rather than going on a peace conference, they should have taken a good trip to any ^{mountainous} mountainous area. Contemporarily, if the European politicians stop considering

DATE: ___/___/___

Laziness as something bad and take rest for a while, then that would be a blessing too. Adding to this, some religious sect members should also take some rest to refresh their minds.

Title: Laziness: A Blessing
in Disguise

Word Count: Idea is ok. Mistakes identified.

Total words = 440

$\frac{1}{3}$ rd = 146

Word count of precise = 138
