Essay:

"Global politics, economy, environment and social phenomenon revolve around the spirit of globalization; it has altered a shape of the world from nationalism to globalization." Noam Chomsky. Indeed, the existence of the globalization is its peak in terms of the emergence of joint trade culture among all countries; the United consensus in figuring out the challenge of climate change and raising of global organizations and institutions. Moreover, globalization upholds the concept of multipolarity not necessarily the world and supports collective efforts on the world's sustainable growth. It also focuses on the global economy and pursues the <sup>liberal</sup> ~~glo~~ model for ~~economy~~ and global politics. However, some threats are also ~~raised~~ because of existing of globalization. It demoralises a concept of country's sovereignty and ~~violates~~ ~~the human rights~~. The prevailing of globalization ~~disobays international laws and their spirit and it~~ gives rise to the competition of capitalist and communist economic ~~order~~. Ergo, by implementing proper steps, globalization can be used for the balanced scale for the betterment of the world. Global consensus on ~~wiping out terrorism~~ and ~~global warming~~. Hence, globalization is a fact that can <sup>not</sup> be denied.

To start with, even globalization is a fact in the current scenario of the global apparatus. It has ~~formulated~~ ~~the shape of~~ world in the global village.

Everything is operating simultaneously; it upholds all the aspects in one particular level of growing in which technology, economy, politics and culture. The said dimensions build up the tendency of the global village. Therefore, the structure and paradigm of world revolves around globalization.

Emergence of the joint trade culture among the countries is the fact of existing globalization. Trade is a key part of globalization that incentivizes tendency of globalization. For instance, the OSA and European trade and import advocate the global market in the era of globalization. Trade is the common phenomenon that each entity or country pursues with other countries. As globalization changes and minimizes the gap between state and market, it opens the door of free market.

United Consensus in figuring out the challenge of climate change supports the fact of globalization. After the ozone depletion in 1975, the global community made the broad level consensus to minimize the carbon emissions. Ozone depletion is a threat to the existence of human being. For tackling it, Paris agreement, Montreal Agre protocol and Kyoto protocol were established due to this challenge. All the countries started following all these agreements. Thus, this step built the power of globalization.

Moreover, in the globalization, the raising of globalizations and institutions is also a fact of global village. In the 21st century, many institutions and organizations have been entrenched for the facilitation of the countries and their joint interaction.

SCO, BRICS, G7, UNO, and welfare organizations are working for progress of people and their easy living standard as well as world sustainable development.

Each organization has a respective task in the globalization. ~~Institutions and organization attract the globalization and its purpose.~~

~~The multipolarity in the world is another fact that can not be denied in era of globalization.~~

After the fall of the USSR, the singular multipolarity has been ~~ex.~~ prevailing, but the emerging of other countries, such as China, India, Japan, Germany, Russia and France.

to are constantly challenging the unipolar world order. Due to emergence of these developed countries, the globalization is touching the sky. World comes through multipolarity.

All the global actors are combine and collectively focusing on the world sustainable growth. Many activities that stay here are under the supervision of global community. They all generate the facilities for growth of world. For instance, G7 and BRICS has pronounced the scheme for interconnectivity in the region to region and continent to continent development. This objective and target formulates the globalization.

Furthermore, the global economy relies on the combined and joint interaction of the global community. Global economy is a strong pillar for all the existing organizations, institutions and countries. They focus on growing economy by applying trade, technology and infrastructure business. Without it, the global economy can not adopt the mechanism in which globalization plays a vital role. Therefore, globalization brings about the global economy.

Globalization pursues the liberal model for economy and global politics. In the recent trends of the world politics and economy, the liberal mode is constantly being followed up in politics and economy.

"Global economy and politics are the two crucial components of globalized world" Kofi Annan.

Globalization adopts the liberal model that keeps markets open for every state irrespective of the identity of the state.

However, globalization demoralizes the concept of sovereignty of country. The sovereignty of any country is a supreme and it comes into national security protection.

Globalization damages sovereignty by opening the markets for trade, business community, open economic model and technology. According to International Global Protection Report, Great countries interfere in any country on the name of globalized world. Due to this scenario, the sovereignty is violated.

Besides, the human rights are <sup>also</sup> violated because of existence of globalization. After the event of 9/11, the war on terror had changed the global arena. On the name of global threat, the USA had been deteriorating human violation. Many institutions <sup>also</sup> leave no stone unturned to destroy the dignity of people and violate human rights that have been mentioned in the UNO charter UNDP 1948. Globalization directly create an expected threat to human rights and its dignity.

In the era of globalization,

International laws are completely disobeyed. and their spirit is limited at resolutions. Unfortunately, the rise of globalization also wrongly manipulates the international relations for in terms of International law for self-defence and allows it for so-called human protection. For instance, Palestinians ~~as~~ have been engaging since Oct, 2023, but I.Law is closed for the purpose of global community to help these people who deserve the implementation of International law. This globalization that disobeys the spirit of I.Laws and global community ~~over~~ looks - overlooks it.

Globalization promotes the competition between two ideologies: capitalism and communism. In the sphere of world, the two ideologies prevail. and their economic and political order have the complete differences each other. Communism promotes the state-centric economic order, whereas capitalism stands by the free-state centric economic order. Of two ideologies, globalization ~~favours~~ <sup>more</sup> advocates to capitalist order. However, the world has been divided into global South and global North.

Mostly, globalization favours global north where the economic and political <sup>order</sup> dominates 'the most'. Due to this phenomenon, the anarchy and competition is ~~increasing~~ <sup>aggravating</sup> day to day.

The power politics prevails among the distinct regional and to global organizations. Globalization has also brought the mechanism of power politics among regional and global organizations and institutions. For the sake of globalization, the fastest growth of Asia is changing the global order. BRICS pursues the own agenda to opt the global hegemony, whereas G7 resists, sustaining the status-quo in the world. This level of power politics exists because of globalization.

The global consensus on the certain agendas in terms of wiping out terrorism and global warming is the well-defined direction to keep balanced level in the globalization. Climate change and terrorism are the global threat to all human being. They ought to be resolved in the broad level consensus. It is not only favour of any single country, but it has the global responsibility to figure out the said unear and work on it collectively. This approach is a sign of the peak of globalization.

The proper implementing of rule of international law bring about the equality in the globalized world. In this current situation, the number of conflicts is are going and they entail the proper implementation of international law to show the world that globalization provides the balance of building measures. For instance, Israel-Palestine, Russia-Ukraine, Kashmir and Somalia-Ethiopia disputes are for the proper attention of international law. This is a way in the equality in globalization.

Last but not least, globalization ought to follow the growth of world irrespective global south and north states. World demands the proper progress and development in terms of Global equality in gender, economy, climate, justice, and development progress and programs for keeping the world replete with peace and prosperity. All these steps would carry out the equality.

In conclusion, there is denying the fact that globalisation is a true reality. It cannot be denied at any condition. The developments and progress promote the spirit of globalization in the world. It upholds the broad-oriented consensus in order to carry out solutions for climate change, terrorism, economic recession, and collective efforts for the sustainable growth of world. However, globalization has also another side that generates threats to global entities and countries. It demoralizes the concept of country's sovereignty.
