

title is written at the top not the end

This year, around four million people have the opportunity to cast their votes. However, the dark clouds of mis-information extensively looms on democratic bounchness. The efficacy of democracy is comprised on evidence and informed populace. Moreover, there exist concerns of malicious acts pertaining misinformation, given the propotion of false information to gain self-interests, and undermine smoothness of electoral process. There are discontends pertaining influence on voters by different means such as propogand and deep-fakes. Along with this, there exist the chance of direct attack on electoral process. However, numerous tactics exist to curb out the malicious act. First, general education to sactify the messege by evidence. Second, this requires three steps resolved by professionals. Interpreting the seriousness of problem, Ractifying its falsness, assurance that mis-information hurts the fabrics of democracy.

main idea is picked and discussed over all content is fine but title Written at top precis exceeds word limit and there is issue of basic grammar issues

attend to point out issue

no need to explain be precis and to the point

Words = 115
 title: "Mis-leading of information: A threat to democracy"

need improvement 8/20

DATE:      /      / 20    

Q4: "Correct any five of the following sentences"

(1) We accept their offer ~~that~~ <sup>ed</sup> on the ground
That something <sup>was</sup> better than nothing.

(2) Use one cup full ~~and~~ <sup>in</sup> for bowl of water.

(3) The bag was so heavy that <sup>g</sup>
~~I~~ <sup>could</sup> hardly lift it.

(4) She advised me not to point
my finger ~~at~~ anyone.

(8) ~~Neither of the two~~

(5) Neither of ~~the~~ two applications <sup>applicant</sup>
had suitable qualification ✓

(6) ~~Neither~~ <sup>neither</sup> Shabab wants to study
, nor he wants a job.