Introductory Paragraph:

'I raise my voice not so I can shout, but so that those without a voice could be heard... Malala

In recent years there has been a surge in feminist movements across the world especially in Pakistan. Feminism is long old debate centered around issues like violation of basic women's rights in Pakistan giving rise to movements like Aurat March.

Pakistan today is facing a severe challenge of women rights violation partly due to core issues like gender inequality, patriarchal mindset and gender based violence but also due to the cultural shift of norms due to globalization and active role of social and political activism.

Unless these issues are addressed these challenges have created various impacts both positive, ⁱⁿ ~~and~~ form of increased awareness, and negative in form of rise of sugarcoated agendas and polarized narratives.

Unless these issues are addressed properly Pakistan can neither become prosperous nor respectable. (146 words)
