

Traditional Family Structure Can not bear the challenges of the modern world.

① Introduction:

Thesis Statement:-

As nuclear families proliferate, traditional family patterns are evolving. However, traditional families have shown to be a pillar in overcoming global issues. Extended families today offer moral guidance and support.

② Traditional family structure has always stood still in the changing order of the world.

Well organised and relevant

③ Traditional family structure has bear the challenges of the modern world.

- The cost of living gets controlled in living together. Diminished cost of living
- Physical and emotional support on rainy days. Women can have
- Women can pursue their career. career oriented approach
- Children get to learn ethical and moral values from their elders.
- Traditional family structure create cohesion and minimise deviant behavior.

④ In modern world traditional family structure ~~cannot bear the challenges.~~

~~Rising cost of living~~

- a) ~~Productivity increases as they have to~~ look after a large group of people.
- b) ~~Personal space gets~~ compromised in ~~extended~~ families.
- c) ~~In some traditional families women often~~ have to leave their careers.
- d) ~~Children usually~~ get ~~detracted~~ by their grandparents.
- e) ~~Today, the responsibilities of traditional~~ families are ~~the~~ ~~source~~ of conflict.

⑤ Traditional families have been the ~~savior~~ in ~~all~~ ~~eras~~ ~~to~~ ~~come~~.

- a) ~~The chances of being~~ increases as ~~extended~~ families contribute in ~~basic~~ necessities.
- b) ~~Modern day families are~~ changing and they support emotionally.
- c) ~~Today, extended families often~~ support women in ~~persuing~~ their careers.
- d) ~~Elders teach children about~~ culture, values and religious aspect of the ~~society~~.
- e) ~~Society becomes~~ healthier and less aberrant when people have a sense of responsibility.

⑥ Conclusion.