

ESSAY

Nations do not die from invasion; they die from internal rotteness.

Outline

1. Introduction

1.1 Hook

1.2 Background

1.3 Thesis Statement: Nations do not die from external invasion but they die from internal rotteness, characterized by the political, social and ^{cultural} ~~economic~~ ineffectiveness/spinosity.

2. How nations die from internal rotteness

2.1 political ineffectiveness leads the ~~down~~ fall of nations

2.1.1 lack of accountability ^{is} pave the way ^{to} corruption

2.1.2 Self interest ^S over ^S national interest

2.1.3 polarized politics

2.2 Social ineffectiveness leads to the death of nations.

2.2.1 Inability to adapt change in social structures.

2.2.2 Failing to provide basic needs

2.2.3 Failing to create sense of belongingness

2.3 ~~Economic~~ cultural ineffectiveness leads to the death of nations.

2.3.1 lack of moral

2.3.2 lack of acceptance or tolerance

2.3.3 Shortage of enthusiasm.

3. How nations can become stronger by resolving internal rotteness.

3.1 By building robust, independent and effective institutions

3.2 By addressing social issues such as poverty, education, unemployment and so on.

3.3

Add more arguments
Give counter-narrative or anti-thesis
as well

4. conclusion.