

7th April, 2025

Est

COMPREHENSION 2022

~ (1) ~

The author characterize the concept of civil society by referring to all the places where people can get together to talk about common interests, and try to affect public opinion or public policy. Such places can include sports club, libraries and parks. Where people can have ample time to discuss and talk about social and political aspects.

~ (2) ~

The civil society strives towards better socialization because they tend to appreciate the association and try to put up with the social differences.

(3)

The term 'Social Capital' in the passage refers to a society that develops the sense of social trust and mutual obligation, that helps the society to function properly.

(4)

A civil society assume the role of a public stake holder in the sense that while in association people start to take their private interest as public interests and work for the same goal. They can also influence public opinion and policy.

~(5)~

The weakened state of a civil society can have an impact on losing trust in society. People will not associate with each other that can impact public policy as well.

The End!