

Day: _____

Date: _____

Fratity is no more the name of Women.

Outline

Introduction:

fratity is no more the name of Women:

i) Playing leading roles in the global politics;

Evidence: Germany's Angela Merkel effectively made peaceful Coalitions, Rejecting populism.

ii) Breaking barriers of femininity through engaging in military;

Evidence: In USA 16% armed forces consist of Women serving in Iran and Afghanistan since 9/11.

iii) Increased political representations all over the World;

Evidence: Rwanda has 61% female MPs, largest female representation all over the world.

Day: _____

Date: _____

iv) Acquired equal access to the educational opportunities at large scale;

Evidence: UNESCO has reported that global female literacy rate has risen to 83%.

v) Dominating the field of space exploration;

Evidence: Kalpana Chawla, Indian born NASA astronaut, inspired global STEM participation.

vi) Advocating for the rights of oppressed class;

Evidence: Maharang Baloch raising voice for missing persons in Balochistan.

vii) Female athletes continue to break record and inspire millions;

Evidence: Sania Mirza is regarded as the greatest Indian female tennis player in history.

viii) Redefining gender roles beyond

Day: _____

Date: _____

caregiving to gaining position in the public sphere;

Evidence: Kamala Harris became the first female vice president of USA.

(ix) Combating against the domestic violence actively;

Evidence: #MeToo movement has exposed abuse globally.

x) Playing key roles in maintenance of peace and stability;

Evidence: Women peacekeepers play a key role in UN missions promoting stability in conflict zones.

(xi) Maintaining balance between the family and the workplace;

Evidence: Average South Asian working women doing dual job of house and workplace effectively.

(xii) Launching successful movements against gender pay gap;

Evidence: Iceland's law mandating equal pay certifications for employees.

Conclusion: