

Pakistan's national culture reflects unity in diversity. Elaborate.

Introduction

Pakistan is located in South Asia on the global and it keeps very much importance on national culture. Pakistan's national culture reflects unity in diversity because this country and her people depends largely on cultural activities. The national culture of Pakistan is unique not only for Pakistan but also for throughout the world because this culture is distinctive and keeps similarities for many people in the country. From the very beginning of its independence in 1947 from the subcontinent, this country was built on the sidelines of culture which was very popular among the Muslims of subcontinent. So, the founder of Pakistan, Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah, and others wanted to make an independent country by keeping in mind cultural and religious values. Pakistan is a Muslim country and her religion is Islam, and these terms shows the national culture which are being adopted in every corner of the country. There are different aspects of culture in Pakistan like language, food, life style, dress, etc. which integrate the country just like human body. Hence, Pakistan's national culture is very helpful and helpful to maintain unity and to become a prosperous country.

Pakistan's national culture reflects unity in diversity

Pakistan's national culture is a catalyst to bring harmony and brotherhood among its people. This culture has potential to unify the people because every Pakistani person likes to adopt national culture. Some practices which are used to retain culture in Pakistan are described as follows:

1 Dress

use elaborate and self explanatory headings.

Dress is an element to show the importance of country. Pakistan has a national dress - Salwar Kameez - which is worn throughout the country. Salwar Kameez is popular in every province of Pakistan and people like to wear it. But, according to modernity, the trend is also changing in Pakistan and Western dresses are influencing the people of Pakistan. So, some people also wear Western dress like pant-shirt. So, dress is helping to maintain culture in Pakistan.

2 Food

Food also reflects unity in terms of culture in Pakistan. Most people in Pakistan are using wheat, rice, corn etc as a food on daily basis. Wheat is used in every home and resident place of Pakistan and it is a symbol of national unity. Many people also like to drink tea throughout the country. Fruits and vegetables are grown in Pakistan and people are also attached to eat fruits and vegetables. On the other side, youth likes to eat junk food and it is increasing in Pakistan's modern areas. So food is also a part of national culture of Pakistan.

add and highlight references/examples against these arguments.

3 Language

Language is ^{the} most important factor to maintain culture. Different languages are using and speaking in different cultures in the world. Urdu is the national language of Pakistan and many people speak and understand Urdu language which resembles national culture. Although, ^{different} many languages are spoken in Pakistan according to region and area, but Urdu is a language which convey information from person to person and from region to region. The accent and speaking style of Urdu language is very unique and people like to speak this language. Urdu is also spoken in colleges, schools, universities and offices etc. The majority of Pakistan also understand English language. So it shows the interest of people to speak Urdu, English and regional languages according to requirement.

4 Religion

Religion is a practice which is adopted by nations / countries in the world. Similarly, Pakistan is also running its system according to religion, namely Islam. Almost 90% people follow the Islamic norms and rules in their life in Pakistan. Pakistan is a Muslim country and the dominant religion in this country is Islam. Islam is a way or system which spreads unity, love and awareness among the people to spend their lives according to Hadith and Quran. People like to adopt Islamic religion because it is also a cultural phenomenon as well as common practice to follow Islam in Pakistan. So, religion Islam, is a national culture of Pakistan which reflects unity in events.

5 Events

Some events are celebrated throughout Pakistan and these events show unity among the people. These events are a source of happiness and enjoyment and people feel good during the days of these events. Some events are: Eid-ul-Fitr; celebrated after the holy month of Ramadan, Eid-ul-Adha; celebrated in the respect of sacrifice Hazrat Ismael (AS) by his father Hazrat Ibrahim (AS), Youm-e-Ashura which is the remembrance of Karbala and Eid-e-Milad-ul-Nabi (SAWW) which is celebrated in the third month of Islamic calendar in the remembrance of birth of Holy Prophet (PBUH). These events are common in Pakistan and these are also part of cultural activities.

6 Agriculture and industry

Agriculture and industry are the important sectors of Pakistan's economy, as well as trending sectors of earning in different parts of the country. Many people of Pakistan relate directly or indirectly with agriculture and they spend their lives with dependence on agriculture. Pakistan is an agrarian country and agriculture provides food to every person in this country. On the other aspect, different sectors of Pakistan are linked with agriculture such as livestock, industry, food companies, etc. Similarly, industry is also a backbone sector of Pakistan and many cities of Pakistan like Karachi, Lahore, Faisalabad, Sialkot run their business on industry. Pakistan also exports many items which are largely depends upon agriculture and industry. These two sectors are widely adopted in many areas of Pakistan and now it is a trend and culture to work and earn by using these two sectors - agriculture and industry.

the headings and arguments to the qs statement.

7 Art and architecture

Art and architecture are cultural activities in Pakistan and people like to draw art because it is a method to show beauty by making beautiful pictures. Art is not a new term for Pakistan. Infact the rulers of the subcontinent like Mughal emperors loved art. So, it is a tradition to make art in Pakistan. Architecture is also used in Pakistan as a symbol of culture. So, art and architecture are widely used in different places such as mosques, tomb, buildings, etc and it reflects unity in diversity.

8 Poetry and literature

Poetry is a method to convey information by using suitable words in the form of verses. The people of Pakistan ^{like} love and use poetry because it is a tradition of Pakistan. The poetries of many poets of Pakistan such as Allama Iqbal, Sultan Bahu, Haerat Pata Granj Bakhsh, etc are listened and used in Pakistan. So, poetry becomes a culture in Pakistan and it brings harmony among people. Literature also keeps importance because it is teaching in many universities of Pakistan. Poetry and literature are just like culture and they show tradition and interest of historical time.

9 Life style

Life style of people of Pakistan is common from one end of Pakistan to another end and this shows a culture to live in a same way. Pakistani people like to live in a family system and a unique bond exists between/among the members of family. They cooperate and support each other in every matter of life. The youngest respect the elders and they spend their lives according to the rules and regulations of the elder members of family. Other than families, people also cooperate to each other under the banner of different groups such as schools, offices, etc. So, family system is a cultural activity in Pakistan and it shows unity among population.

10 Education

Education is necessary to spend life in a good trim. Education plays a key role for the awareness of humans. Like other nations, Pakistan also wants to educate her people so that they can grow in the future. To get education is just like a part of culture of Pakistan. In Pakistan, people get Islamic education and scientific education. It is a common practice to send children to school at an early age so that he or she may be able to improve his/her life according to requirements. So, education is also a cultural activity and it brings unity, harmony and awareness among people.

Conclusion

It is concluded that culture is a unique element that can help people to get close to each other. Those who adopt culture, they find it good to ^{choose} close relationship and in this way brotherhood can be adopted in the world. The people of Pakistan like to cooperate, help and support each other under the umbrella of culture. It is need of the hour to maintain and sustain culture in Pakistan so that people can realize the importance of culture.

Whether cultural system is strong in Pakistan, but it is changing from with external influences from time to time. So, it is the duty of the people and government to maintain culture and provides different activities to people in this culture. Pakistan's national culture is unique for the people and this culture has potential to bring harmony and brotherhood in Pakistan. Hence, Pakistan's national culture reflects unity in diversity.

improve the quality of arguments, headings, references and the paper presentation.