TITLE : TEACH CHILDREN WITH LOVE

PRECI :

Modern educational theorists should lay more emphasis on affectionate engagement of children. As children respond better when they feel genuine love. Children are emotionally sensitive and get irritated by cold selfish behaviour. A child should feel that the other person is enjoying his company as much as he is. It facilitates a child in connecting better with the teacher. Therefore effective teaching demands unconditional love for children. Teaching small children is a challenging task. Hence the workload on such teachers should be decreased to keep them fresh. Such teachers will be better able to maintain a friendly behaviour while teaching. Children do not follow well the discipline imposed from above. A child is more responsive and learns better when taught with love and affection.
