The Role of Democracy in Pakistan

Democracy by the people, from the Democracy is a political and governmental system built for the people, by the people from the people as well said by United States' 16th President Abraham Lincoln. Pakistan is a democratic country as suggested by its name Islamic Republic of Pakistan. Quaid-e-Azam laid down a foundation of a separate homeland and be the first governor general of Pakistan. Governing Pakistan by the hope of a democratic homeland but shamelessly Pakistan is going on authoritative regime like political regime of Ayub khan where he gave him the title of Field Marshal on the other hand he is not worthy to wear this title by his own self-will. Same the regime was Zulfiqar Ali Bhutto's where everything gets privatized. Zia-ul-Haq regime has of no exception it also dealt with authoritarian regime.

Pakistan can gain again democracy by adopting the ways of different successful countries like ~~Countries~~ Singapore, its democratic political system is outstanding.

By making constitutionalism Pakistan can be the democratic state where rule of law is equal for all and every citizen wants to contribute its share.
