Title : Sustainable - Urbanization : A Much Needed Combo
Making Cities Greener

Sustainabilization - is need of the Hour

Urban green spaces are beneficial to human in many ways; in addition to providing mental calm, they also help us in tackling with environmental pollution and climate change, but they are being threatened by rapid urbanization. Therefore, there is an urgent need to make cities sustainable to check urbanization by dialling up for nature preservation and plantation drives. Instead of passing the buck, every individual living in a city should consider it as his duty to take steps to making his surroundings greener; thus, improving environmental and human health.
